Chicago, 28.—Inter-Ocean's Washington: Second Assistant Postmester General Brady is causing an investigation into some of the so called Star route in the Far West. The object is to cut off service at some places were the mining population has deserted towns that when the routes were established were large enough to justify frequent mails. The Pioche route in Southern Nevada is to be cut down to less frequent mails, because miners have left and gathered at other points about Leadville, Southern Arizona, Gunnison country, etc. It is a rather had season for some of the contractors. The route from Santa Fee to Me-rills will lose about $30,000 this season owing to drouth; the Waislie coute, in Northern Arizono, is losing also because the fear of an uprising of the Navajo Indians has caused a unspension of travel in that section.

The treasury officials expected that the Central and Union Pacific railroads would bend as common carriers under the new immediate transportation act, but they have not done as.
